THE SEED SITUATION

Farm seed prices have continued to advance since the start of the harvest season last fall. Partially responsible is the influence of war, with its generally higher prices, but of more importance is the definite seed shortage this year.

Throughout most of the seed producing areas, continuous fall rains prevented harvesting of seed crops at the proper time. As a result, much seed was lost completely or damaged to such an extent that it was hardly worth harvesting. This was especially true of Alfalfa, Lespedeza and Sorghum as well as some of the Clovers and Grasses. As we approach the spring planting season, this shortage of desirable farm seed is more evident.

Except for the few lots harvested early, the quality of seed this year is far below normal. Fortunately, most of our present seed stocks were selected from these early harvested lots. Careful selection, followed by thorough recleaning has enabled us to maintain the usual high quality of Scotts Seed. Sowing clean, hardy, weedfree seed always pays big returns but especially so this year when large yields will be needed more than ever.

In view of present conditions we urge you to purchase your spring seed requirements early. You will very likely save money but the big advantage is this - you'll get "the cream of the crop." If you prefer to receive the seed later in the season we will gladly defer shipment until the time you specify.

You will find a complete list of quotations on the inside page, along with a convenient order blank. We again furnish the bags without charge and on shipments of 200 pounds or more we pay the freight. Don't hesitate to ask any questions you may have about our seed, or about the various farm crops.

Yours very truly,

O M SCOTT & SONS CO
